Theme: Not even twice Kommittee.

Secret Agenda: It's not so much suspicious hammers, as it is being the right kind of engineer.

Outside Groups Seeking Anything:

Film Club: Tammany Monday and Wednesday 8-midnight and Tuesday 9:30 to midnight. Can events be scheduled after Wednesday?

Tricia: I believe they can only be scheduled 5-7.

Kelly: Isn't Eurovision some time then during those hours?

Tricia: It may be received clearance from us, Meurcie, and RNSP in advance.

Kelly: Can I allocate for that time?

Tricia: If Meurcie and RNSP both approve.

Shannon: Meurcie will be out this week.

Tricia: Why is the time insufficient?

Kelly: Lighting.

Tricia: Historically, Kommittee has motioned to move quiet hours.

Shannon: But RNSP frowns upon it.

Emmett: At Eco we chose our quiet hours.

Shannon: I am just going by the department memo.

Tricia: You can only allocate up till 11 due to regular quiet hours.

AMMENDED AS SUCH

THE MOTION PASSES

Inside Groups Seeking Anything:

Life Drawing: Tammany 7-9:30 for a bonus life drawing session. We could not hold today's session.

Shanti: I want to allocate for a film program 8-10:30 in Tammany.

Aron: We just allocated the space for that time.

Shanti: How about Tuesday?

Aron: 5-11 is booked.

Shannon: How about TVR Wednesday.

Aron: 8-10:30 in TVR is free.

AMMENDED AS SUCH

THE MOTION PASSES

Tea Party: CLR Saturday 5-7.

THE MOTION PASSES

Aron: We have Eurovision in Tammany 2-9 this Saturday. Does anyone know if approval was obtained?

Shannon: I don't think so.

Aron: It was originally scheduled for Tammany.

Shannon: Would shutting the doors help?

Tricia: It would, Meurcie lives there, but she is not here.

Shannon: I hear everything, but I will not be around during the day that Saturday.

Kelly: I was told events outside of quiet hours need approval?

Tricia: Meurcie was supposed to bring this to the attention of RNSP. She is not here. As far as we know we can hold the event.

Kelly: That isn't approval though.

Tricia: It isn't, but we have done what we can. Meurcie is unavailable for confirmation.

Kelly: This is a double standard.

Tricia: I am not opposed to your allocating, provided you receive approval.

Kelly: I'd like to allocate for Tammany 9-11 on Saturday.

AIR: Kelly has been working with me on this project. I could be available to supervise noise levels.

Matt: Keep in mind that the final say on whether this can happen is outside our control.

THE MOTION IS APPROVED BY KOMMITTEE, BUT APPROVAL MUST BE SOUGHT FROM MEURCIE AND RNSP

Reports:

RHD: She will hopefully be back Monday the 15th.

ARHD: OH 9-12 on Wednesday. Thank you to all who applied for Risoc positions. I need to get the okay from Meurcie and will get back to people.

RA's:

-Jacob: May 12-13-14 at 8 is a one man comedy show titled Sublime Faggotry. He will recount his experiences as a Jewish gay male in the modern day. You can get Rispoints and good laughs for attending.

-Shanti: My film program is Wednesday at 8:30, we will watch a movie with themes of migration to the United States in the context of eight years ago.

-Tricia: The first closing meeting occurred. These meetings are mandatory.

-Jacob: My closing meeting will be at 8 and Shanti's movie will be 8:30 on Wednesday

[other timeslots are listed, but they are posted everywhere]

Jacob: Closing sign ups are posted on RA doors.

Tricia: There is no penalty for signing up for a non-appointment check out.

-Matt: I did a walkthrough with EHS and Adam. Compared to the past it was night and day. I like to think ASUB helped with that. We had a student/staff banquet. I had a track meet. We had a great concert with 5 Risleyites and myself. Stay safe for Slopeday. I submitted many maintenance requests over the course of the year. It's been an honor to be with you.

AIR: Stay tuned for study break art activities up until the last day of exams. If you need shop hours, I am available for appointment.

TD: Nothing is on fire. We decided to move Ren Faire to next semester. The weather was awful, we didn't have ad materials, and there were supplies we could not obtain. Ask me if you have questions.

RSC: Carnival occurred despite the rain. We have a battleship game that could be a fun addition for the RisNavy. In this game, naval trainees use beanbag cannons to take down the sails of an opposing ship. Would we be interested in keeping this for future programming? Could we store this in the programming closet?

Eldar: I will use it for Ren Faire.

Brady: It was a fun time. The goal was to break a record for fewest throws or race a friend to take down one of the two sails.

Tricia: We could decide after Ren Faire where to store this.

MOTION TO STORE IN THE PROGRAMMING CLOSET

THE MOTION PASSES

ASub: We made a nice safety wishlist.

Emmett: Safety is hot.

TSub: We voted in a new EBoard and set next semester's season.

Emmett: I completed two saw horses.

GV: We have ~$1,031.18 in the budget. We will run out April 18 of 2017. The Risquirer goes to Cai. I have closed the massage room calls form. I hope you all got in requests in time. People are really fond of 1pm. Get In Touch was fantastic this week. We moved into people's rooms after 11pm to avoid violating quiet hours. This is my last Kommittee. It is nice seeing you all.

Matt: On Tuesday at 8 in Lincoln is a percussion concert.

Brady: On Wednesday at 8 in Sage, Hangovers is holding Happy Hour

Christian: Tuesday 430 in morril, I'll be giving a presentation on my honor's thesis in linguistics.

Mario: I was in charge of BBBBQ, I'll be honest I haven't gotten to planning. Normally it would be this weekend, but we would need many permits. Would people be willing to help out?

Other Business:

Approval of Last Week's Minutes: APPROVED

ELECTIONS

Brady: We have an election, wow.

CHAIR:

-Megan Rosetti

-Alex Rock

TD:

-Eldar Slobodyan

MINISTER OF LETTERS

-Maddie Welchoff+Brittany Stone

Tricia: I will be standing in for Megan.

Aron: We cannot discuss any candidates not here according to charter.

MOTION TO IGNORE CHARTER FOR THAT SECTION

IGNORED

MOTION TO TABLE ELECTIONS UNTIL AFTER DISCUSSION OF THE POLE

THE MOTION PASSES

POLE POSSE

Matt: So, I'd like to summarize. A long time ago we had Pole Posee, then they became a SAFC group, we funded another pole, then there was the discussion of location and the bases were to be left behind the piano, these were not left there and were moved because they were in the way.

Mikaela: We did not have access to the theater office so we could not put the Doritos there. We stored what we could behind the piano, but the bases no longer fit. As soon as we have access to the theater office we can store things properly.

Eldar: You could have asked any RA. Also, they were left very much not out of the way. If you don't have access to a room you requested, you can bring that to Kommittee before a problem comes up.

Mikaela: We weren't given a time frame. I apologize, I am not sure which members left the base pieces there.

Matt: I imagine it is possible for things to get moved around without others being aware of it. I imagine this hinges on Meurcie's availability. Perhaps some things could be kept in the archives for now?

Tricia: The archives are locked.

Mikaela: We could keep small things in there.

Matt: There is floor space available.

Emmett: Given the initial solution that the bases don't go behind the piano, do we have a piece to discuss?

Eldar: I have yet to see both bases behind the piano at once and I doubt the feasibility of such storage. If Pole Posse has enough people to warrant two poles, there should be enough people to carry one of the bases from the archives. Many groups have come to me about moving pole stuff when they allocated the space.

Tammany is not storage.

Mikaela: We could keep the bases upstairs and keep some Doritos behind the piano. We do have carrying cases.

Mario: To reiterate Eldar's point. Jazz Night has been concerned about the safety of the piano. We could possibly move the piano to the other side of the stage. Tammany is a space for performance. They should remove things when done and leave things useable for the next group.

Zach: Do we have anyone who attends Ring of Steel in Pole Posse? The sword bag seems quite heavy. The pole posse bases are very cumbersome to move around. I feel the way it was discussed does not show how cumbersome this is.

Matt: As a percussionist, yes moving equipment increases risk of harm to the equipment, but given the number of people, storage seems feasible. Perhaps we could put only the softer crash pads behind the piano.

??? : Zach is the only guy in our group. Not to use gender stereotypes, but we are not the strongest group.

Mario: Can we talk to building care and Meurcie to use the parapet storage?

Matt: There is the issue of locking things. Risley has invested a lot into the pole and I would be opposed to unlocked storage even given how cumbersome the equipment is.

Mikaela: We will store the bases upstairs, but the Doritos are heavy. The carrying cases are padded to reduce damage to the piano. We can store everything upstairs, but there is higher risk of injury or damage.

Emmett: There is a lot of stuff in the parapets, and building care would likely appreciate our not using their space.

Eldar: I think the convenience of having the equipment in Tammany is great. I want to add that Tammany is the space that has been most abused recently. We need to keep in mind that Tammany is a lounge, not a storage space. I am for keeping the Doritos in Tammany and storing the bases elsewhere. Matt: I support half and half. The hallway is not very wide. I imagine the wall is not very strong. I worry we might incur some wall damage if we aren't careful moving things. The piano cannot be moved due to humidity and the window. We could have groups using Tammany take a picture after their event to track the state of the space.

Emmett: If we have a furniture dolly, we can use that in transporting goods.

Tricia: The point of this discussion was to see if Pole Posse was willing to help make the space more accessible. From their presence and willingness to help I say they meet that. Meurcie probably will not be here. It may make sense to close discussion for today and open it again next year if there continues to be a problem after acquiring keys.

MOTION THAT POLE POSSE STORE SOME THINGS UPSTAIRS IN BAGS, SOME IN TAMMANY, AND THAT WE TRY PHOTO DOCUMENTATION OF STORAGE FROM NOW UNTIL KOMMITTEE IN THE FALL

Matt: There is a rolling dolly down in the shops.

MOTION TO AMMEND WITH BASE UPSTAIRS AND DORITOS DOWNSTAIRS IN TAMMANY ACCEPTED AS FRIENDLY

Tricia: Does the photo clause still stand?

Matt: I would like that it does.

Tricia: I object to the photo part.

MOTION TO DIVIDE THE QUESTION TO SEPARATE THE PORTION ABOUT PHOTO DOCUMENTATION

THE MOTION IS SPLIT

Matt: Mikaela, what are your thoughts? Does this meet your needs?

Mikaela: I don't think taking a photo is too much of a burden. It helps us cover our backs. Either way, it's not a problem.

Zach: Would the poles themselves also be in Tammany?

Mikaela: We would try that with the Doritos.

Eldar: They should fit in Tammany.

THE FIRST HALF OF THE MOTION PASSES, MOVING ON TO PICTURES

Tricia: Not requiring the photos does not prohibit the photos. We recognize the fact that we don't need to compel them and supervise.

MOTION AMMEND TO MAKE PHOTOGRAPHY OPTIONAL SENT TO MATT OR THE SQUIDSERV

Eldar: Can we not send thee to the squidserv? I don't think requiring is necessary.

AMMEND TO CC MEURCIE INSTEAD OF SQUISERV

Aron: This motion is frivolous and absurd.

CHAIR OPPOSES

MOTION TO APPEAL DECISION OF THE CHAIR

Matt: I think this is preventative.

Eldar: That is not related to the motion. We already made our point.

[many people concur]

PHOTOGRAPHY MOTION RESCINDED

ELECTIONS

TD:

-Eldar Slobodyan: Hello. Surprising as it may be, I enjoy being TD and think I am doing a good job. Please vote for me.

Alex: Of the fires, how many were extinguished.

Eldar: All that I was made aware of.

Brady: Is this a fire hazard.

[moves thing]

Eldar: Not anymore.

Matt: What is your timeline?

Eldar: I will use the electric organ to manage stress by taking it apart to the dumpster.

Tricia: What is most likely to start a fire?

Eldar: A can of gasoline.

Tricia: Don't microwave foil.

Christian: Or gasoline.

Adam: If organ destruction happens, please inform me so I can salvage material for sculptures.

Christian: What is the combustion point of paper in fahrenheit?

???: 451.

Cai: Blaze it.

Kally: Actually, thas it Celsius.

Tricia: What is the width of mumble mumble.

Eldar: The emergency exit nearby.

Matt: What are your plans for the community.

Eldar: To set up events, let people know I can help clean events, and to clean the balcony.

Tricia: Where do you foresee fire.

Eldar: Controlled fire at BBBBQ.

Matt: What will future Risleyites see that you have done.

Eldar: Lack of an electric organ.

MINISTER OF LETTERS

-Maddie Welchoff+Brittany Stone: ABSENT

Emmett: I have a comment. Brittany expressed they are a good pair because Brittany writes fast and Maddie hears everything.

Tricia: Will a member be more present than they are now?

Eldar: I believe the candidate will be able to attend far more than Cai Debenham will next semester.

CHAIR:

-Megan Rosetti: Hello, our club missed the bus back to Ithaca. I want everyone to feel welcome at Kommittee. I will bring fun and efficiency as an unbiased chair.

-Alex Rock: My fellow squids. I sit before you having sat on this couch two semesters. I balance expediency and impartiality. I have practice filling in for the chair. I am the most experienced candidate in the running and feel I did an okay job.

Christian: I almost got impeached.

Alex: I did not put forward that motion.

Matt: What is your experience with conflict management?

Alex: I ran somewhat tempestuous Kommittee meetings in the past.

Megan: As an RA I have been through extensive training on conflict resolution and would balance feelings with commentary.

Brady: What made you change your platform?

Alex: Expediency leads to sloppiness that leads to more time wasted. If I am more impartial, things get resolved quicker.

Aron: Have you ever read a page of charter?

Megan: Yes, and I pledge to read it completely over the Summer. As a hotelier I am well trained to preserve order.

Matt: Name a skill that you would use as chair.

Megan: I would use the LARA method listening affirming, responding, adding. I would have people use as statements to promote peaceful communication.

Alex: It is important to understand why people bring things to the table. It is important to understand how things relate to their motion so we can work on the source of the problem.

Brady: Can you comment on the current chair and your ability to continue or go in another direction.

Alex: The current chair occasionally stifles discussion if he feels it has gone on too long. I would ask more probing questions rather than being silent.

Megan: Christian has done wonderfully in remaining impartial and handing off power to make a statement. I would do the same. Christian has not attended every meeting. If elected chair, I would do my utmost to attend every meeting.

Emmett: Do you believe there is ever a time when conversation should be stopped in favor of moving forward?

Alex: I do. If things are obviously circling I would step in.

Eldar: [recites Robert's Rules for analysis]

Megan: This specifies that we are not attacking a person. Objection to the motion or other comments should not attack the character of the person who made them. This works nicely with the recent amendments.

Alex: That was what I would say. Don't attack the person, attack the idea. If someone is attacking another person, you ask them to stop.

Eldar: I believe you did a great job as parliamentarian. As chair, who should take up your position.

Alex: Tennyson has gone over charter a few times. I would have to catch him up on Robert's Rules.

Megan: Alex would make an excellent parliamentarian going forwards. We have many members familiar with our general rules. We would be able to function accordingly. The digital copy of Robert's Rules is amazing.

Eldar: If either is elected chair, what manner of wardrobe would you bring to Kommittee.

Megan: I would hold the hockey stick and, if Christian leaves it, would wear the squid hat. You can expect pink.

Alex: I would keep in Christian's traditions. I will find a suitable replacement to the squid hat. I plan to bring plants to Kommittee.

Brady: I don't believe there were many themed Kommittees. How do you feel about these?

Alex: I enjoy themed Kommittees. I would have these once a month.

Megan: Every Kommittee would be themed. As a Hotelier I am very organized. Some would be more relaxed, others more serious.

MARIO DESIGNATED AS MIME

Shannon: What characteristic exemplified by another would you carry?

Megan: I admire Joe Burke. He did a fantastic job in RNSP. He is incredibly caring and learned the names of as many Ras, staff, and community members as he could. I admire his caring.

Alex: I admire Leslie. I enjoy her passion, and I have a passion for this. I have a passion for charter and Risley. I want to be a part of everything.

Shannon: What would you do outside of Kommittee?

Alex: I would be available as chair through prompt email response. I would let people know how to raise issues.

Megan: I would talk to people in Kommittee and without. I would try to get to know those who don't attend and be at most if not all Risley events. These help open relationships and would allow people to ask me about Kommittee. Those who aren't vocal are still present and valued members.

Eldar: How allocable would you be?

Megan: As charter requires.

Alex: As possible.

Megan: You could also just ask me to do things and I would most likely respond.

Christian: This job is stressful. How would you deal with that?

Alex: Run outside and scream.

Megan: I would talk to Tricia.

Eldar: Tricia would ask every candidate a question. I am very concerned she is not asking any now.

Alex: I would invite Tricia to speak were she here.

Megan: I too am very concerned about Tricia's lack of presence. She would normally notify me ahead of time. Were she here, she would ask more questions.

Aron: As a former member of RNSP, Megan, are you a plant? How can we be certain you aren't here to disrupt the democracy?

Megan: I am so done with RNSP. They could not pay me to go back.

Alex: I have never been involved with RNSP. I will subject myself to interrogation.

Christian: Waterboarding?

Alex: Go for it.

Eldar: You promised to bring a plant to every meeting. What does Megan think?

Megan: He firmly has roots in Kommittee.

Tricia: All responses were as heartfelt and pre-discussed as possible.

[slips go out, Emmett will help Brady tally the votes]

Other Allocations:

Matt: $72.40 for a dust mop for the Dance Studio and 12 banker boxes for the Archives. The Archives is clear in one direction, but not the other. These boxes would help manage the stacks of paper.

Tricia: I think we should actually go through materials first. Not all of the drawers were full and things were not organized. Theroetically, we bring things to the library and then archive them.

Matt: There are many video cassettes which fit in banker boxes. There are CDs of a student band. The point of the Archives is to keep these things. Currently there are loose piles of unsecured materials. We can use these elsewhere as well.

Aron: Why aren't we hearing from the Archivist?

Matt: They said they were in favor of this. I have a key to the space and am also responsible for it. It would be good to have these boxes ready for future Archivists.

THE MOTION PASSES

Scare Me: We would like a banner for club fest. We are hoping for $80. And would use the extra for food.

Matt: Can we raise to $130?

AMMENDE AS SUCH

Aron: If it were given as discretionary budget for food, it would be inappropriate to spend it on non-food.

Eldar: Do we need to deallocate and reallocate the $50?

MOTION TO DEALLOCATE $50 FOR FOOD AND ALLOCATE $130 FOR THE POSTER

Tricia: I'm not sure I support deallocating the $50?

Eldar: They accepted as friendly.

Trip: We have too much food and will not run out before the end of the year.

Aron: We would have ~$870 still after this allocation.

THE MOTION PASSES

Tea Party: I blew the discretionary budget. I want to get sandwiches this time. $100 for food.

THE MOTION PASSES

ELECTION RESULTS

Minister of Letters: Brittany and Maddie

TD: Eldar

Chair: Megan

Shannon: If you can get the banner designed and sent to Meurcie that would be ideal. Club fest is at the very beginning of next Fall.

Eldar: Can you do an account transfer through Cornell Printing Services?

Trip: We have a design.

Shannon: Run things by Meurcie.

Aron: At Mann, you can bring a flashdrive with the design. You can also try the Cornell Store.

Matt: $80.10 for a recycling bin. This would help keep Tammany clean and reduce landfill reduction. This is about waste high.

Tricia: It has a lid.

Emmett: Can't Cornell give us one?

Matt: Not for one this large.

Eldar: Will the bins wheels be okay for rolling up and down stairs. I imagine they would test for this.

Emmett: Generally, they are not designed as such.

Cai: There is now a ramp to Tammany/dining.

Matt: The bin currently in Tammany says Risley building care, but students take care of it.

Eldar: I have a concern putting large things in Tammany. This is necessary, but could we store it elsewhere?

Matt: It is roughly the size of the trashcan that fits behind the door.

Eldar: But there is already a can behind the door.

Tricia: I would say it is more important to have this than the trash bin. We go through many large, recyclable soda bottles.

Kelly: It is crowded enough as is in there.

Tricia: I would be for replacing the bin currently in there.

Kelly: If these bottles are empty, it does not seem too problematic to walk them out.

Tricia: Having run MRave. The soda bottles tend to get thrown out instead of recycled because the bin is there. Having a large bin is beneficial to large events. A smaller bin would be sufficient though to help events like Jazz Night.

Emmett: This looks like the kind of bin that goes in an alley. Why not use a bin like what is already there?

Matt: This is a rolling bin. Cardboard fits nicely in a square bin.

Emmett: This does not look like something that belongs in a lounge.

Matt: We would remove the two small bins. Emmett, if you can find a dolly and round blue bin, I would be open to a friendly amendment.

Aron: There are a lot of trash cans available, would you be replacing the Tammany trash bin?

Matt: There is a large bin and two room sized ones. The current plan is to replace the two smaller bins. People throw things in the nearest bin. Major programs should encourage recycling.

Tricia: I would be in favor of replacing the large bin with the recycling bin and the small recycling bin with a trash bin. The small bins can be stored underneath things to avoid compromising space.

Emmett: I would like to suggest using the tall skinny recycling bins. The large soda bottles are easy to crush. We could get these skinny bins though facilities.

Matt: Is the large blue bin better than no bin.

Tricia: How about $100 for up to two tall slim recycling bins through Cornell?

AMMENDED AS SUCH
THE MOTION PASSES

Aron: We have $677.78.

Tricia: Motion to allocate all of that to BBBBQ.

Matt: Meurcie says we should purchase safety stuff. This is not through Kommittee; however, we should weigh priorities.

Tricia: This is a traditional allocation. If we were expecting these purchases to come out of our budget, Meurcie should notify us. She can still reject our purchases.

Aron: The budget doesn't work the way you think it does. Risley isn't out of money when my sheet hits zero. In the actual Risley budget, we agree to stop trying to spend more once we hit 0.

Matt: What about BBBBQ?

Aron: They currently have $500.

AMMENDED TO $577.78

Tricia: I plan to put the $100 to slope day things including sun screen.

THE MOTION PASSES

Tricia: $100 for supplies for slope day such as snacks, breakfast goods, and sunscreen.

Emmett: Could sunscreen be considered medical?

Tricia: It could cause a skin reaction.

[Side discussion happens; apparently, we go through condoms really fast]

Emmett: Is that enough money for all of these things?

Eldar: We are not the only option for food.

THE MOTION PASSES

Other Other Business:

Aron: I can say we have never used condoms for Get In Touch.

Matt: It is 11:30.

Eldar: BBBBQ has not been worked on yet. There are doubts things will be ready by Friday. It will rain this weekend. When do we schedule this? Do we need to hold it 5-7 outside of quiet hours.

Emmett: People will start leaving by then.

Cai: I am okay with it not being on Friday.

Brady: We could send out a poll to the building or at least the seniors.

Christian: Seniors stick around.

Emmett: Did Mario say he would plan it?

Eldar: He will plan it and I will help. We don't need advertising. This is definitely doable.

Emmett: I feel like a poll may not be the best idea.

Eldar: May I propose Thursday May 18 5-7.

Cai: I approve.

Matt: Everything else other than the quiet hours was not contested in any way.

MOTION TO APPROVE OF ASUB CHARTER OUTSIDE THE CONSIDERATION OF QUIET HOURS
 OBJECTION TO CONSIDERATION OF THE QUESTION

6 for, 5 opposed, 3 abstentions

MOTION TO SPLIT THE HOUSE

NO SECOND

MOTION PASSES, THE QUESTION IS CONSIDERED

Matt: I will rescind in fifteen minutes.

Tricia: Does this have to go to referendum?

Alex: No.

Eldar: What about the bit about the quiet hours? Does it disappear? Is it not in the charter?

Matt: We could pick it up again next semester. The other sections are most important. We can pass this in small bites as possible.

Aron: The document is self-referential and splitting could be risky.

Emmett: We started off the semester discussing the ASUB charter. It is important to have a complete document, but if the quiet hours section is all that is missing and we have said we will discuss it. It would be nice not to have the same conversations in the Fall.

Tricia: This version of the charter is much better than the version we already have even with the section missing. It is much more functional. It would be beneficial to pass this charter to start next year strong.

Matt: I believe things function fine when removing this section. I believe I do not mention after hours anywhere else.

Eldar: Aron, do you think we can pass this and it would be functional?

Aron: Yeah.

MOTION TO CALL THE QUESTION

THE QUESTION IS CALLED

THE ASUB CHARTER IS (mostly) APPROVED

Kelly: I've been working in Tammany on a film project. I tried to turn Tammany into a Japanese Café. I would like to keep the decorations up for aesthetics.

MOTION TO KEEP UP THE DECORATIONS

Emmett: Is it fire-proof?

Eldar: Did you use the roll of white paper in the art shop?

Kelly: Yes,

Eldar: Then it is fireproof.

Kelly: What about the wood?

Eldar: I have a spray we can use

MOTION TO CALL THE QUESTION

THE QUESTION IS CALLED

THE MOTION IS APPROVED

Matt: Christian, anything to say as the graduating chair?

Christian: I love Risley. I wouldn't have stayed here 4 years otherwise. We get caught up on things and we could fix that, but it doesn't really matter. It is a big deal to us. Keep it weird.

Aron: Kommittee is great. I am sad that this is the first semester we have struggled to fill all of the positions. Read charter.

Matt: Will we ever see you two again?

Christian: I hope so.

Aron: Maybe.

Cai: I'll post something in the minutes.

Shannon: For the rest of my life, whenever I try to spell committee I will start it with a K and eventually get in trouble for it.

[Passing of the squid hat and hockey stick occurs]

Theme: Rislifer Kommittee

Secret Agenda: It's not so much spelling Kommittee with a K as getting in trouble for it.

Cai's Secret Theme: 99% Kommittee.

Cai's Secret Secret Agenda: It's not so much Emmet as it is Emmett...or is it Emett...maybe Emet...how about Em-Mett...naw it's Emmett.

Cai: Well everyone, I thank you for reading the minutes and I wholeheartedly thank everyone for letting me know that you value the quality I output on what could very easily be a thankless task. I hope that the integrity of the minutes persists long into the future, to the point that it is simply viewed as a given. It has come up from time to time that certain things should not be said in the minutes and some people freak out in Kommittee. Please know that: 1) nobody who has it out for Risley reads the minutes 2) hand typed minutes will never be perfect anyways and often utilize paraphrasing. That said, I apologize if I ever offended anyone by paraphrasing but I viewed it as being preferable to including incoherencies at the start of statements before one has gathered their thoughts...some people also speak quickly and/or quietly. I have really enjoyed being in Risley, and even Kommittee, these past four years and wish everyone the best.

Signing off for the final time,

-Cai Debenham
